New Look at Streetman

Roy Brandenberger, chairman of the board of Superrock, Inc., and president of Merchants, Inc., of Abilene, points out the new Superrock plant under construction near Streetman as Bruce Lane, Superrock president, looks over the area whose clay will be processed into "aggregate" for road surfacing. Merchants, Inc., is part owner. The huge plant is expected to be in operation by mid-year. At rear are piers being constructed for the rotary kiln that will be central to the processing. (Sun Staff Photo by Leland Deming.)

Community Playhouse Gets Charter; Reading Under Way for 'Matchmaker'

By SAM PENDERGRAST
Editor of The Sun

Backers of the new Corsicana Community Playhouse breathed a sigh of relief Tuesday night following "brass tacks" organization of the preparations for active production and began readings for the first vehicle of the group, the original stage play on which the smash-hit "Hello Dolly" was based.

Some 35 theater enthusiasts turned out for the meeting at Medical Arts Clinic — many of them new faces who signed up for membership and swelled the rolls of the CCP to more than 100.

Mrs. Peggy White, president, announced the addition of Mrs. John Tatum to the Board of Directors, replacing a potential director who declined to serve.

Treasurer and organizational factotum Dean Milkes announced cash on hand from memberships at $375 exclusive of fees payable.

He also presented for consideration the by-laws for the new group, which the membership voted to leave to the Board for study and approval, and reported the filing of state charter as a non-profit civic group dedicated to dramatic productions and other artistic functions.

Milkes formulated the by-laws after study of similar documents from other civic theaters in Texas. Suggestions for revision were made from the floor and others invited by Milkes and President Mrs. White.

Mrs. White read the report of the Site Committee in the absence of committee chairman Dr. Bernard Rosen, citing rental rates for the Arena Theater at Navarro Junior College.

According to a rate schedule from college president Dr. Ben Jones, rental for the 100-seat theater is $35 a performance plus $10 per night for rehearsals (excepting one rehearsal period free for each performance night) and such additional charges as may be necessary for janitorial services after 10 p.m.

The Board was authorized to an agreement with the college subject to negotiations.

Mrs. White noted that St. John's Parish House has been offered free by the Rev. Fr. Dennis Smart, pastor, and it was expected that most of the rehearsals will be carried out there, with some provisions suggested by Mrs. White for token remuneration of janitorial services and utilities.

Joe Brooks, earlier named director for "The Matchmaker", said he will need at least 13 rehearsals at the NJC theater for initial blocking and final rehearsals before performances, tentatively set for the first weekend of June. A thumbnail computation indicates that would cost some $225 for rental of the theater, expected to be recouped from ticket sales with other expenses such as royalty fees and the $45 cost of scripts.

In addition, supporting memberships will be available, according to a provision of the charter by-laws explained by Milkes, with rates based on whether the member participates actively in productions or in a supportive capacity.

Men Talk To Water Council

Two Corsicana businessmen are in Washington, D.C. today before the U.S. Water Resources Council to voice their views concerning water resource development projects which will affect this area of the State of Texas.

The Water Resources Council meeting began Monday and ends Wednesday.

The two local men at the meeting, W. D. Wyatt, president of the First National Bank of Corsicana, and B. Lynn Sanders Jr., chairman of the Navarro Soil and Water Conservation District, released prepared speeches to be presented before the council.

Corsicana Grain and Elevator Company, Inc., criticized principles and standards recently proposed by the National Water Resources Council and charged that they "would wreck the upstream watershed program sponsored by conservation districts, counties, cities and other groups in my state."

"I urge that the principles and standards as presently proposed by the National Water Resources Council be rejected," Sanders said. "These principles and standards should either be revised to reflect the needs of rural America or the standards should either be revised to reflect the needs of rural America or the standards now in use should be continued."

In his speech about upstream watershed projects, Sanders said "coupled with good conservation land treatment, (they) reduced flood damages to crops, fences, county roads, bridges, and other property. More than one county government in our state has been forced to the edge of bankruptcy by flood damages to its roads and bridges. These projects reduce erosion and they reduce sediment damage to rivers, streams, and lakes."

Sanders said sediment is "our largest single source of pollution, at least by volume," and floodwater retarding dams keep sediment out of lakes and streams in the Upper Trinity River. He pointed out three ways in which the third criticism was the new criteria of principles and standards used to evaluate upstream watershed projects does not give "certain consideration for improving the quality of living for people," as did the original version.

School Board Approves List for Faculty, Staff

By SYLVIA WATERS
Sun Staff Writer

The Corsicana Independent School District Board of Trustees awarded Dr. John Harper a plaque for his service on the school board at its monthly meeting Monday night, received a bid of $40,010 for the old Sam Houston Elementary School property, and reviewed a request by the Day Nursery No. 2 to use Jackson Elementary property as an expansion of the nursery. The trustees also adopted textbooks recommended by the textbook committee, approved the acceptance of funds under Title I, reviewed resignations of teachers, approved the employment of a Spanish teacher at Corsicana High School, adopted a school calendar for 1972-1973 and met in closed session to discuss rehiring of teachers.

Dr. John Harper was presented a plaque by Dr. James Price, president of the board for his service on the school board from 1963-1972.

O. L. Albritton Jr., senior vice-president and trust officer of the First National Bank reported that the principal cash for the J. L. Collins Education Fund for the period of Dec. 1, 1971 to Feb. 29, 1972 totaled $140,240.80. The total in trust book value was reported to be $2,404,780.41 with the market value totaling $2,869,695.18.

School board members received a bid of $40,010 from Dean Milkes, vice president of K. Wolens Department Store for the old Sam Houston Elementary School. The board reviewed the request of Mrs. Mary Peterson and board members of Day Nursery No. 2 to use the old Jackson Elementary building as a day nursery and community center facility, but tabled the recommendation for further discussion and legal advice from the school attorney as to whether the school board would be subject to liable if an accident were to occur on the property.

Joe Seale, superintendent estimated the cost of repairs to the building would begin at $25,000. Albert Sanders, board member, added that the cost of cleaning off the property would be $14,000.

Board members approved recommendations of a 14 member textbook committee to adopt textbooks in the fields of social studies for grades 1-3, vocational music books for grades 4-7, Basal readers for grades 1 through 3, history and geography books for grades 1-6 and high school textbooks in Spanish, German, French, math, English, and vocational courses.

The board approved recommendations by Superintendent Joe Seale to accept funds totaling $30,957.00 under the Title I budget.

Joe Seale announced that the city council P.T.A. teacher appreciation banquet will be held at 7 p.m. April 11 at the Corsicana High School Commons. He commented that this year's "Public School Week" was the most successful in the school's history and added that principals reported that their schools had more visitors than ever before.

Board members reported that the delinquent tax report for the month of February was $20,777.36, and tabled for further discussion the proposal by Joe Seale to leave it to the discretion of the superintendent as to the loss of pay of principals who used all allowable sick leave and personal leave days.

Resignations from 19 persons were accepted by the school board effective at the end of the current school year.

Persons resigning were: Mrs. Marguerite Berry, Mrs. Artena Harris, Mrs. Sue Sisco, Mrs. Sadie Andrews, Miss Elizabeth Kelton, John Ross, Miss Faye Quinley, Mrs. Alva Jean Smith, Mrs. Ella Fultun, Mrs. Margaret Huffman, H. C. Allen, John Cotten, Don Stiles, Mrs. Carol Burnett, Mr. Jack Burnett, Mrs. Nancy Coryell, Mrs. Gloria Herod and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Trantham. Board members also accepted the resignation of Arturo Pena who resigned March 3, 1972 for personal reasons.

The full time employment of Mrs. Olivia Faye Jackson Wilson, a Spanish teacher at Corsicana High School, was approved by the board. Mrs. Wilson assumed the full time Spanish teaching position of Pena March 6.

A proposed school calendar for 1972-1973 was approved by the board. The calendar provides a grand total of 180 instructional days and 190 teacher work days for the school term. "In-Service Education" for teachers will be held August 14-18, with first semester classes beginning August 21.

Board members listened to a report by Seale on a student who had been expelled four times from Corsicana High School for disruption of classes, fighting and possession of a knife.

Seale reported that he would send a certified letter to the parents of the student, which would contain a copy of the principals statement of the student's violations and a letter from him stating the rules for student conduct in the public school. Seale reported that he had informed the student of his right to appeal to the board.

The cafeteria financial statement for the current month was reported to be $2,362.42 during February with the year to date balance at $27,229.39, the ending bank balance totaled $3,653.77. A total of $24,045.37 was paid for foods for school cafeterias.

The Jim Collins Trust Fund bills paid since the close of the February school board meeting was reported at $9,464.44, athletic association fund bills paid totaled $2,506.90 with the operating fund bills totaling $45,585.14. School board paid $19,378.75 to the State National Bank for insurance on buildings and $4,892.80 was paid to the Texas Power and Light Company for services.

City, County To Widen Bridge Over South Beaton Street

A new, street-width bridge will be constructed in the 1100 block of S. Beaton St. as requested for months now by residents in Southeast Corsicana as a cooperative project between the city and county.

City Commission Tuesday authorized a $1,500 appropriation from the street improvement bonds funds upon City Manager Jack Russell's report that Navarro County will provide the pipe for the span's culvert box.

He reported that Commissioner P. D. Fullwood had negotiated the agreement with members of County Commissioners Court whereby the county would buy the 32-foot wide pipe for the foundation to make possible a new bridge as wide as the newly paved 31-foot street, with the $1,500 city portion to cover costs of building the concrete end support walls and paved surfacing.

It will replace the present wood bridge which narrows to approximately 14 feet in width and which has been restricted against heavy load limits.

Arthur Carroll has been before the Commission on numerous occasions asking for the improvements in behalf of residents of the area so they may take full advantage of getting S. Beaton and E. 20th Ave. paved into a hard-surface roadway over to Highway 75 for a school bus route.

On the recommendations of Commissioner H. R. Stroube, Jr., the Commission agreed to rent portable restrooms for Community Park and East Community Park this summer on a trial basis before deciding whether to replace on a permanent basis facilities demolished by acts of vandalism.

The Commission agreed to rent two units for each park for the three summer months during which the Little League ball program is in operation.

Stroube reported he had contacted a supplier firm which rents portable restrooms at $32 a month, plus $8 each for mileage in servicing the facilities. If any damage is done to the units by vandals, the city would be responsible up to $125 for total replacement.

Commissioner Bob Scott, who brought up the matter of providing public restroom facilities originally several meetings back, acknowledged that "anything would be better than nothing," in moving the city proceed to rent four units on a summer trial basis.

In other actions on financing improvements, the Commission accepted the low unit bid of Tom White Chevrolet for two pickup trucks for $5,432 for the water and sewer departments. Corsicana had advertised for three pickups, the third for the street department, but City Manager Jack Russell recommended instead of buying a third pickup, the city buy a used dump truck for the street department out of the funds budgeted.

Commissioners, in accepting the bids on just two new trucks rather than three as originally contemplated, authorized Russell to seek bids for the used dump truck. Bids on three pickups received from three dealers, previously tabulated, included: White Chevrolet, $8,148; Hervey Motors, $8,158.50; and Goins-Weatherby Ford, $8,363.

Commissioners accepted Manager Russell's recommendations he be authorized to have repairs made to the public library's air conditioning system out of the library bond construction fund.

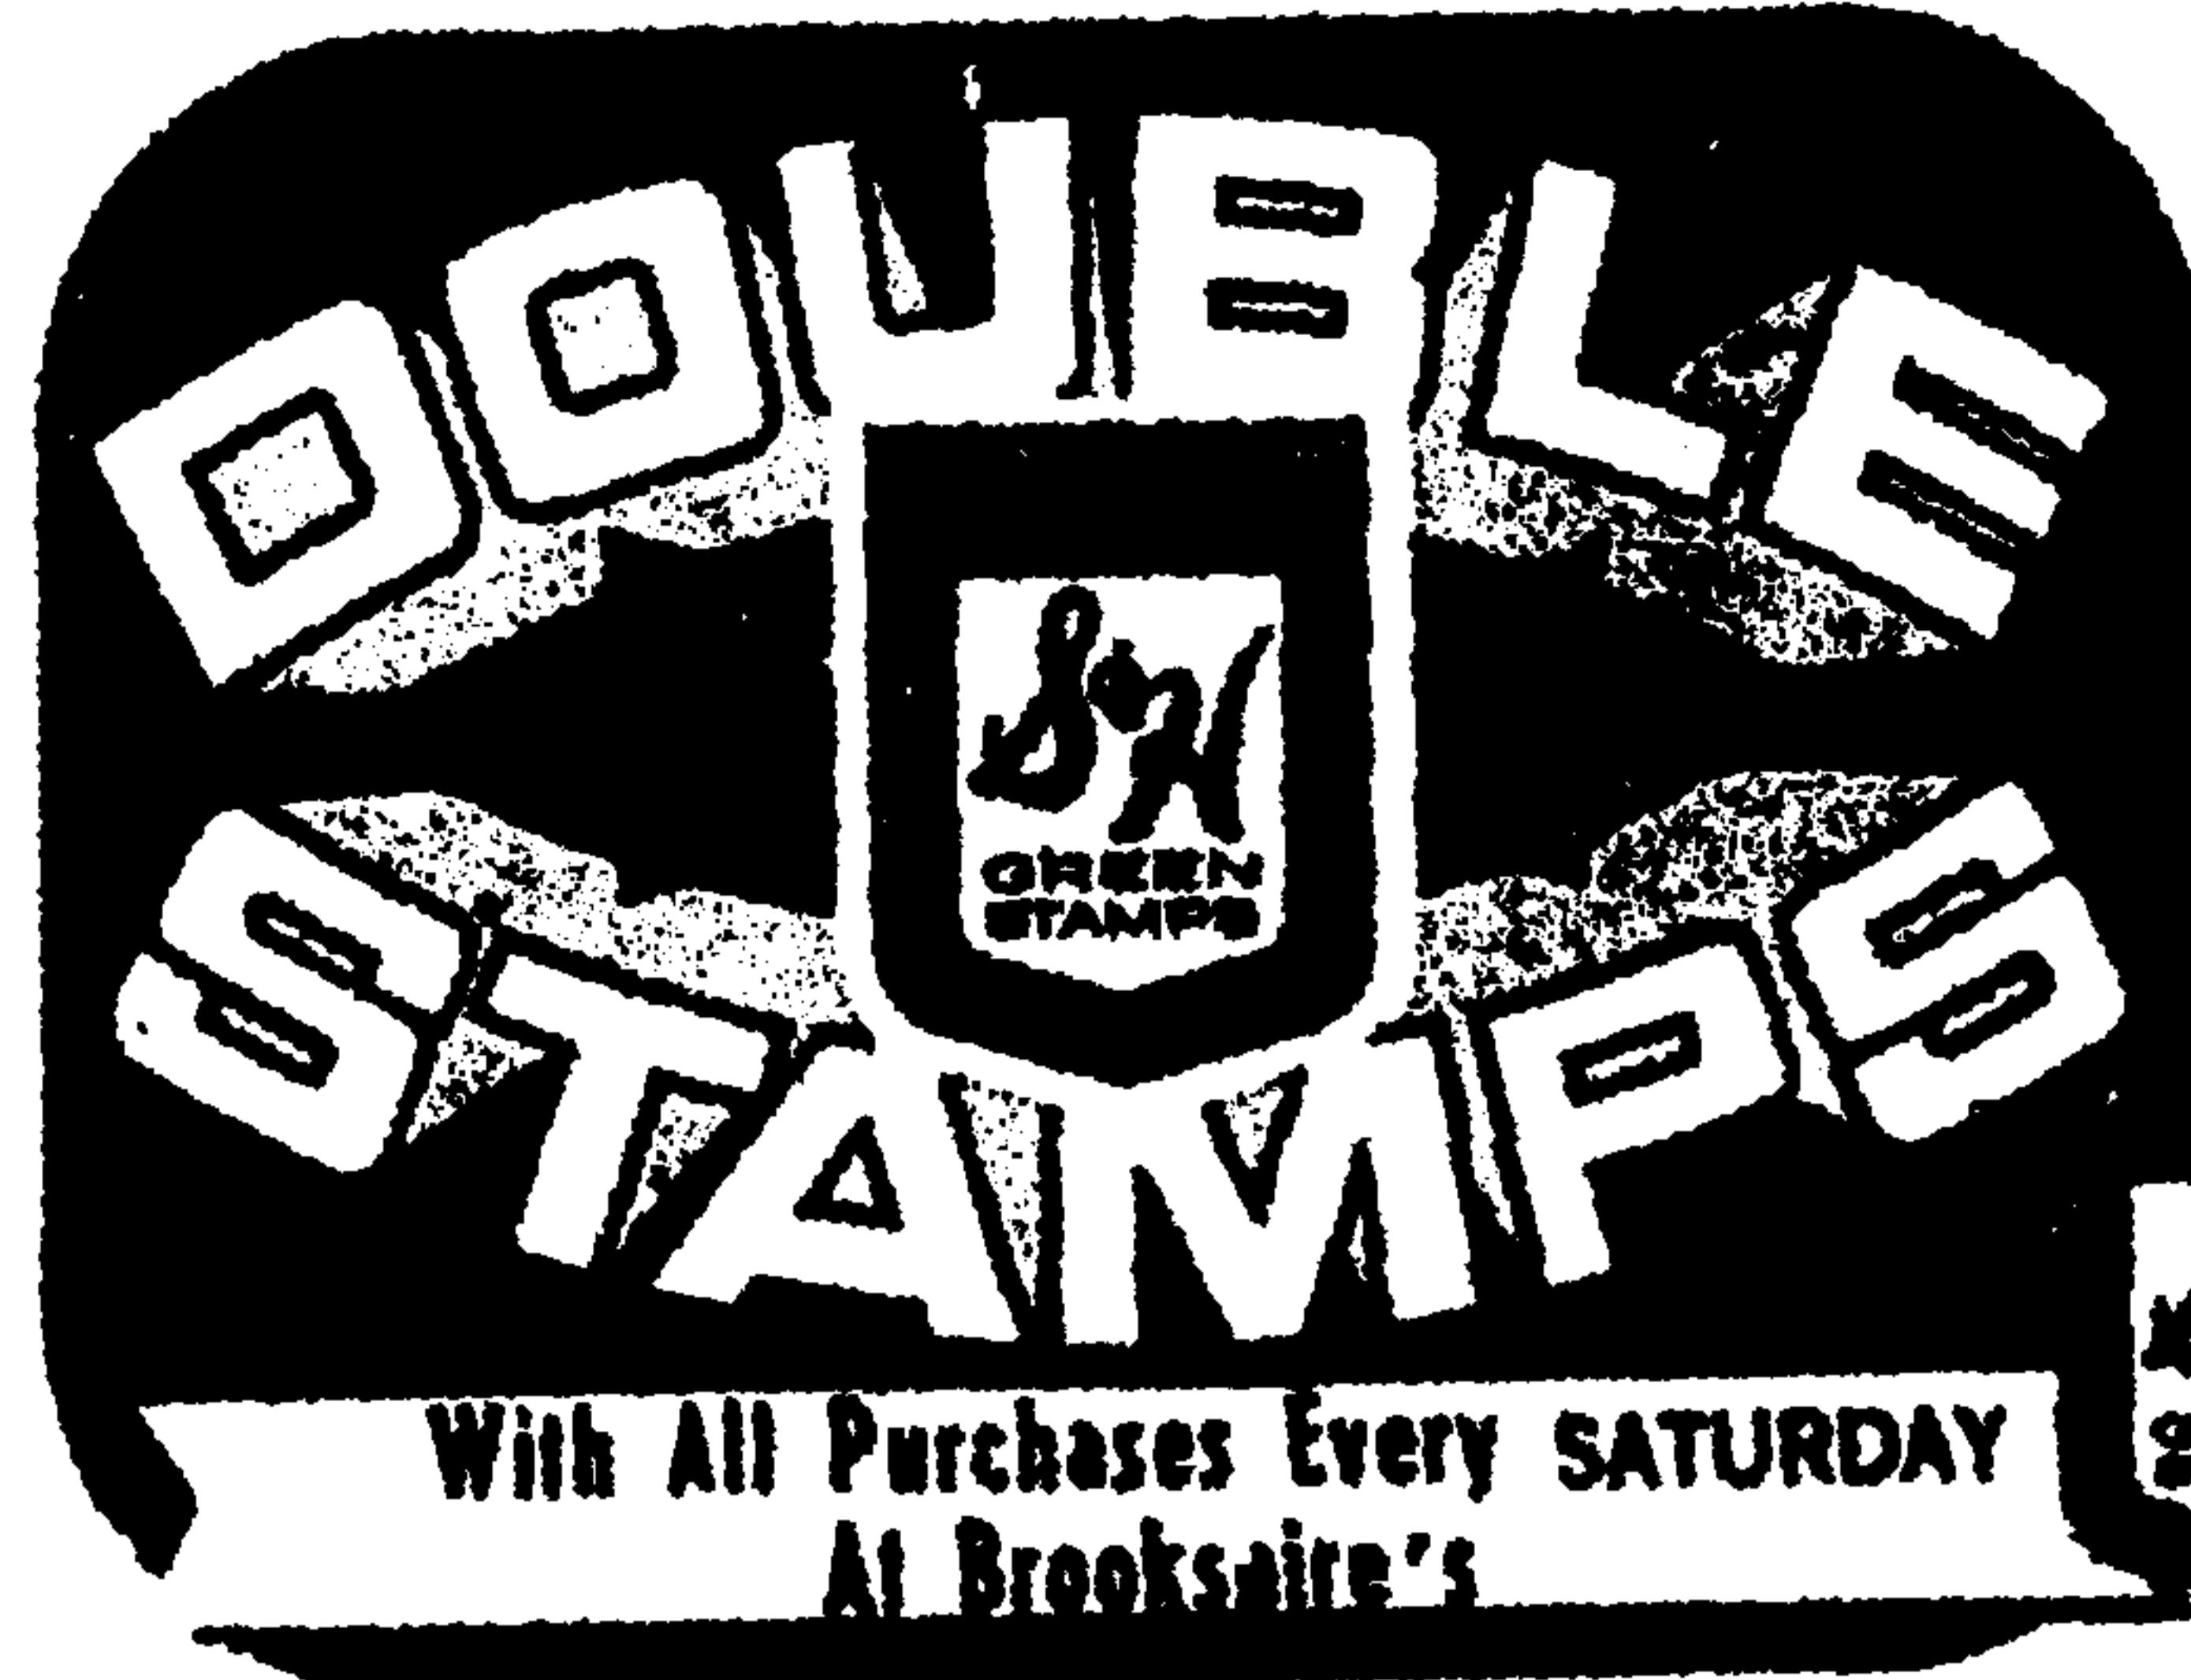

Manager Russell reported that Public Works Director Dick Ballenger and Tatum Air Conditioning Co., had evaluated the problem and advised that the recurring trouble stemmed from improper wiring when the system was installed that caused the cooling and heating to work against one another, burning out motors. Repairs to the motors are estimated at $500, with no firm estimate received on replacing the system's controls.

The Commission also authorized the city manager to take bids on needed repairs to Sub Fire Station No. 2 on W. 13th Ave. Mayor Sue Youngblood informed the Commission that an estimate that Fire Chief Charlie Tieman had obtained for repairs indicated the need to take bids for the work.

Heroics Lauded

Corsicana Fireman J. D. Burleson is presented a certificate of appreciation and commendation from Mayor Sue Youngblood. The award is in recognition of saving the life by applying mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to Jena Marie Yerby, 6-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Yerby, Rt. 1, Oakwood, March 12 when she fell in Post Oak Creek and almost drowned. City Manager Jack Russell can be seen behind Burleson. (Sun Photo by Leland Deming)

Saturday Last Chance For License Plates

The office of Navarro County Tax Assessor-Collector Jerry S. Scott will be open from 8 a.m. until 1 p.m. Saturday, March 25, for the purpose of selling motor vehicle license plates.

Scott said approximately one-third of motor vehicle license plates expected to be sold in this county before the midnight April 1 deadline are still in boxes at the Navarro County Courthouse. He said the office will be open until 4 p.m. Saturday.

"According to law, if you're

Night Meetings Talked; Remodeling Under Way

Although all work hasn't been completed yet, the City Commission met in "new" surroundings Tuesday in the combination Commission chambers and city courtroom currently being revamped.

Mayor Sue Youngblood voiced the sentiments of the Commission when she observed "I am real proud of the room" revealing she had got the carpet donated from an anonymous source.

With the remodeling, the courtroom judge's bench and jury box have been removed and a curving continuous desk built in and panelled. This new arrangement makes it possible for city officials all to sit facing the audience, whereas before they were crowded around a large table.

The Commission commended the city personnel who are doing the remodeling work for which $2,000 was budgeted this year.

City Manager Jack Russell said thus far, with city personnel providing the labor in crafting the work, costs had not exceeded $200 with money left to buy new chairs for Commission, replace two filing cabinets for the court's records, and make other improvements. The city manager asked for the Commission's agreement to utilize part of the $2,000 further to install a petition in the downstairs hallway between the tax office and finance department to provide facilities for relocating the reproduction and printing office.

Mayor Youngblood, Commissioner H.R. Stroube, Jr., and City Manager Russell will act, it was agreed, as a committee to select new chairs for the Commission's use.

Manager Russell advised he would like a policy decision from the Commission on the use of the room hereafter by public groups.

He reminded that the room, in addition to being used by the Commission and court, is used by various city boards such as the Planning and Zoning Commission, Civil Service Commission, and others on a regular basis.

The city receives frequent requests from public groups so that at times conflicts arise, and he sought direction on whether this practice should continue. Manager Russell said it could become necessary to designate someone to the specific duty of keeping a schedule on use of the room as a meeting place, and the additional janitorial expense that is involved.

While no formal vote was taken, the Commission indicated it felt the room should be "Kept clear" primarily for city use functions.

In connection with the subject of meetings, Billy Elias asked if the Commission would look favorable on changing its meetings to night sessions. Elias recalled that at one time the city had held meetings to accommodate working people who can't come during the afternoon and want a chance to be heard on some matters. Speaking of minority groups, Elias observed "we have a lot of people who don't make enough money to take off from their jobs" to come to an afternoon meeting.

Those unable due to personal circumstances he said, as a result, have to rely on petitions, written requests, or having some representative appear in their behalf as he was doing.

"We tried that once before and no one came up here," remarked Commissioner Stroube. Commissioner P.D. Fullwood, a new member since 1971, added it was his understanding that "fewer people came at night" although Elias felt otherwise. Mayor Youngblood recalled that they had tried it and one reason "we quit was a former mayor became ill and the city attorney was going to night school." She added, however, that in the future when some important meeting is coming up, such as a public hearing on a paving program or a bond proposal, the Commission might change to night sessions where large interested groups are involved.

Manager Russell advised Elias that it is always a good practice for any group wanting to present a request, or inquire into the status of a project, to submit this personally, or in writing to his office in advance so he has opportunity to "check it out" and brief the Commission.

Commissioner P.D. Fullwood, a member of the Navarro County Action Committee Board, recommended to Elias, an NCAC Neighborhood Centers representative, it would be worth while to emulate what the NCAC board is doing; encouraging citizens in neighborhoods to file "specifications" through their centers so that definite information could be developed in advance, that would enable expediting matters

Corsicana Native Promoted

NJC Journalism Get Offset Press

By SYLVIA A. WATERS

Sun Staff Writer

The Journalism Department at Navarro Junior College has purchased a $12,183.60 Royal Zenith Jobber 22 offset press to add to its $50,000 printing class shop.

The maximum printing size of the press is 17 1/2 x 22 1/2" with a speed range of 8,000 impressions an hour. The press will be used to print business forms, brochures, and pamphlets.

It has all the modern printing qualities featuring a stream feeder, swing gripper, pull side guide, vacuum delivery control, single knob plate twist, outside

New Construction Reaches $559,321

New construction in Corsicana for the year reached $559,321 with the issuance of eight new building permits at city hall aggregating $75,594 this week. Five new home starts are included in permits as follows:

Nolen Dockery, 2804 Hillcrest, construct brick veneer residence at cost of $15,296; Carey Lumber Co., 540 Edgewood, construct brick veneer residence at cost of $14,824; B.R. Ashford, 504 Edgewood, construct brick veneer residence at cost of $12,000; H.W. Higginbotham, 3304 Purdue, construct brick veneer residence at cost of $18,624; Carey Lumber Co., 521 Edgewood, construct brick veneer residence at cost of $13,850; Fred Jones, 3001 N. Mills Dr., build frame garage at cost of $150; Larry Reed, 2304 W. 4th Ave., add room to frame house at cost of $400; and Andy Trull, 1803 Woodlawn, build frame garage at cost of $450.

Dear Aunt Louise, "As we are already into the Lenten Season and making our plans for Easter, I would like to offer a suggestion that should provide much more happiness for all concerned - child, parent and animal. I feel compelled to discourage the practice of giving live bunnies, chicks and ducklings as gifts at Easter time. Of course, they are cute and cuddly, but are also very fragile living creatures. All too often they are neglected, injured and even slaughtered by the family dog or cat. The cruelty may be unintentional but it does occur! I would like to suggest to calibrated head stop control, power lift feeder, double loading, push button plate twist and can be operated by the inexperienced person.

The press purchased from the Albert Ladymon Company is just what the department needed, Charles E. Woodson, instructor at N.J.C. stated.

The press will be used by 58 students who have enrolled in the offset printing classes at the college and pamphlets.

This offset press is only one of the refined pieces of printing equipment used by the printing classes. The Linotype Proof Press and the IBM Composer are also used by the department. Both pieces were donated to the college by the Fort Worth Star Telegram last year.

The Print Shop does all the printed materials for the college except the newspaper, year book and NJC catalogue. The Print Shop at NJC also uses the AB Dick 360, 1250 W. Mutilith, Offset Press, and the Davison 500.

Students enrolled in printing classes at Navarro Junior College gets first hand experience knowledge of what their experience in printing will be like and the problems they will encounter when they get jobs in printing; Woodson commented.

Students who complete their courses of study in printing at Navarro Junior College are prepared to go to work, Woodson added.

Students who have attended Navarro Junior College's in the field of printing have been placed in printing companies in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, and San Antonio, Woodson stated.

He said that he believed that Navarro Junior College's Printing department was one of the best in the state.

Atttorneys in the 13th District Court case No. 285-71 Fred Dubose vs. Navarro County, et al are working out details for a settlement this week and a judgment is expected by early next week, according to defense attorney W. D. Ralston.

The suit was filed by Dubose to enjoin enforcement of taxes after his property taxes were raised by the county.

The plaintiff in the case was represented by the Dawson & Dawson firm.

Happy Birthday to ALEENE REDFORD, Collin Street Bakery, who celebrates tomorrow March 21st. I've been knowing Aleene for many years and she has always been on my favorite people list. I asked Maurice Pollock the other day if her birthday wasn't in March and he said yes. When I started to type this column I couldn't for the life of me remember if she spelled her name with one "e" or two. I called Mildred Phillips, Personnel Manager, and she said she was always glad to help. She doesn't like people's names spelled wrong. Mildred is very efficient and has a place for everything and everything in its place. Bless her though, she is kind and forgiving to my faults. I checked with Earl and David at Sparkman's Bait and Tackle about fishing news. They said that they were busy, busy, so they must be hitting pretty good. The fish are beginning to move into shallow water so take your pick of area lakes or maybe you're lucky and have access to a private tank or lake like Moses Carter, Tom Hester and Williard Parker to mention a few. Poor me! Smile.

Actually Alton and Gilley Justiss do their fishing at Lake Halbert and have as much luck as the next one. It seems we drive miles and miles to find a great place when one is so near home.

Buddy Withrow's mother told me Buddy bought a new boat and all the gear and equipment. I told her I was surprised as he always tells me he works, works, works!

She smiled and said that it was true but the days were getting longer and day light saving time wasn't too far away. I told her I wished she hadn't mentioned THAT. I don't mind the extra hour but it is the change that upsets me. It will take a month or two to get accustomed to it. I used to tell Grandpa Foster I'd be glad when I got to be sixty five years old and could retire and sleep late. He said that I was in for a surprise that the older you got the less sleep you required and that he always got up early. Oh well, you can't win.

Sure had a hard time keeping up with Cosby Hodges, a representative and salesman for Harte Hanks Newspapers. I like working with him as he was polite, carried all the layouts, jumped to open doors which is a big help when the wind is blowing. But he walked too fast! Wow! Cut this out and send to your mother in Birmingham, Cosby, she might like to know what you've been up to.

Personal to Mrs. D.H.: Don't ever hate anyone dear. It won't hurt anyone but you. Norman Vincent Peale wrote and I quote "Spiritual power CANNOT pass through a mind where hate exists. Hate is a spiritual non-conductor. So, mentally go around your world forgiving everybody. Having done this pray—Our Father, I have undertaken a hard job. You know how deeply embedded resentment and grudges are in me. If I am honest, and I MUST BE WITH YOU, maybe I have en-
